

The student-run undergraduate philosophy journal Aperto Animo welcomes submissions to its 2024-2025 issue. This is an excellent opportunity for undergrads to get published and share their ideas. Submissions will be accepted on a rolling basis until January 10, 2024.

Though expressly a philosophy journal, Aperto Animo also publishes academic writing on theology, political science, and multidisciplinary subjects. A strict focus on philosophy is not required.

Consult the submission form linked below for more information.
